EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR UPDATE:

The association experienced an increase in game management incidents during the past month. Several member schools appropriately self-reported violations related to these situations, and we appreciate the professionalism shown in addressing concerns through the proper channels. The success of the CAA continues to depend on all member schools maintaining and supporting the standards expected within the Education-Based Athletics model.

Association staff and leadership are continuing to reinforce expectations through conference workshops, direct email communication, and ongoing conversations with athletic directors and administrators. Our goal remains consistent: to ensure competitive environments that prioritize student-athlete safety, sportsmanship, and positive educational experiences.

As we transition into the spring sports season, excitement among our student-athletes and programs is evident. We encourage all member schools to ensure that eligibility, scheduling, and administrative requirements are fully completed so that the season can begin smoothly and be one to remember for our participants and communities.

Thank you for your continued leadership and commitment to making a positive impact through CAA athletics.
